

ICRML
Institut canadien
de recherche
sur les minorités
linguistiques

CIRLM
Canadian Institute for Research on Linguistic Minorities

Hi,

CIRLM ONLINE NEWSLETTER

PUBLICATIONS

New research report published by the CIRLM

Title (only available in French): “Possibilités d’études sur la situation des minorités linguistiques au Canada” (The state of linguistic minorities in Canada: potential studies)

Author: Soheil Chennouf

You can find the PDF version on our website: <http://www.icrml.ca/>

New issue of Francophonies d’Amérique

Francophonies d’Amérique has published its most recent issue (no 26), entitled “La langue française en Amérique : dynamiques spatiales et identitaires.”

This special issue contains twenty texts taken from the proceedings of the first “Biennale Amérique de la langue française” organized by the Canadian Institute for Research on Linguistic Minorities, in August 2006.

The following texts are presented by CIRLM researchers:

Éric Forgues and Rodrigue Landry, “Liminaire – La langue française en Amérique : dynamiques spatiales et identitaires”, 13-16.

Rodrigue Landry, “Au-delà de l’école : le projet politique de l’autonomie culturelle”, 149-184.

ONLINE RESOURCES

Bibliographic database on official languages is going online

The CIRLM has created a bibliographic database on Official Language Minority Communities in Canada. This database is an online source of information for all those interested in Canadian Official Languages.

For more information, please visit our website: <http://www.icrml.ca/>

You can also find the bibliographic database on Anglophones in Quebec (a pilot project) at: <http://www.point-de-liaison.com/wikindx-en/>

Stay up to date by subscribing to the RSS feeds for both our website (<http://www.icrml.ca/>) and the bibliographic database.

NEWS

Linda Cardinal was awarded a research grant through Community-University Research Alliances (CURA)

The project includes a team of 13 Canadian and foreign researchers. Seven partners will also be associated to CURA and its research strategies.

Éric Forgues and Marc L. Johnson from the Canadian Institute for Research on Linguistic Minorities are involved in this research project.

To read the unabridged article, please view the University of Ottawa Alumni's Newsletter at: <http://www.bulletinsanciens.uottawa.ca/fss/LandingPage.aspx?id=384788&p=1>

Collaboration between the CIRLM and the FLACSO in Guatemala

The FLACSO (Facultad latinoamericana de ciencias sociales / Latin American Faculty of Social Sciences) is an autonomous university institution dedicated to research and graduate studies across 20 countries, including Guatemala. FLACSO has invited Marc L. Johnson (a CIRLM researcher) to participate in a comparative study on the governance of education and to collaborate in hosting workshops on education and ethnic studies, in 2009-2010.

For more information please visit their website: <http://www.flacso.edu.gt/>

EVENTS

Health Canada will hold a science colloquium

Title: The Health of Canada's Official Language Minority Communities

Dates: November 5 and 6, 2009

Location: The International Development Research Centre (IDRC), 150 Kent Street, Rooms Hopper A, B, and C, in Ottawa.

For more information on the main objectives, research priorities, provisional program, and registration, please visit the CIRLM website: <http://www.icrml.ca/>